Abolitionizing the Army. A New Orleans correspondent of the N. Y. Times writes:

. CAmong the hard-working men here, in all matters that are useful and good, is my friend, Captain Clark, on General Butler's staff, and controlling editor of the Delta. It is seldom you meet with a man of finer impulses, or more truly humane disposition. He came to New Orleans an altra Democrat, and a thorough upholder of Slavery as a necessary sequence of putting down the robellion. But a change has long since come over his mind; his judgment has been convinced through his eyes, and the columns of the Delta grow more and more bold in behalf of free labor, and the total extermination of Slavery. This is more remarkable when you consider that his mind was so thoroughly trained in a different school; but I have noticed that constant contact with the institution, and a study of its effects upon white upholders, soon break down their preconceived philo-sophical opinions, and from the Northern pro-slavery man often emerges the most practical and judicious opposer of the institution. Captain Clark in this respect resembles General Butler, for these cannot be a doubt that the General to-day has one more to solve the problem of Slavery and give a death-blow to the institution, than all the avowed Abelitionists in the country It cannot be denied that the tendency of our armies in the South is towards Anti-Slavery. I heard one of our most prominent officers the other day, in the public room of my hotel, say: 'I came here a Pro-Slavery man; my experience at Baton Rouge has made me an Abelition-

The troops from Baton Bouge, some 10,000 strong, arrived here quietly, and at once, without noise or parade, proceeded to their places on the lines, and there are now formed a series of magnificent encamp-ments, which hold soldiers who defy the approach of the enemy. These events and consummations have called forth two or three reviews from the Commanding General, which resulted satisfactorily to all conserned. It is now unquestionably true that General Butler's force can hold the city against the attack of 100,000 men; in fact, it seems to me that any attempt to take New Orleans on the part of the Confederates, would be only to provoke its de- Annexed we give them in extenso: struction by our own forces, for such unquestionably would be the result if any apparent success was gained by the ene-

He and his neighbors had lost not only their cat-tle, but their butter and choese, and even their blankets. Everything that could be applied to the use of an army had been taken. He was paid nothing, and was not offered even Confederate notes by the inwithout money, wandered the streets, un-til they could find food and lodging at Uncle Sam's expense—and all such, I belisce, did succeed in finding that much looked-far Uncle—while others, who were more fortunate in having a little money in their pockets, went to some of the hotels in Ripley, lated Sept. 1st, to Chief Clerk Mix.

There seemed to be two opinions, says Commisback to the barracks. On Wednesday, the 27th ultimo, we were joined by twenty more nurses from Cleveland, under the leadership of Mr. G. S. Husted, a man of sioner Dole, in regard to these Indian troubles. One i that the Indians are not in hostility to the whites generally, but have had personal difficulty with employees of the Government; and another is that there is a wide-spread disaffection among them, and that they are taking the opportunity to strike for revenge, believing that our men have all pluck, who would not allow his men to scatter like lost sheep. Our fare at Bar-racks No. I was no better than that of com-mon soldiers: bread, beef, bed bugs, etc., were plenty, which to many, if not all of us, was a feast to which we had not been invited, as we supposed. Much grumbling was the consequence, not so much on ac ng that our men have all gone to war. Officers of the Land Office have had to run for their lives, leaving everything behind. They are now at Fort Ripley, as are also count of the food as the sleeping arrangements, not being provided with any blankers, and still having too many comforters in the way of bed bugs. So it was arranged that we should go to Park Barracks, about three miles from town; and on Friendley the 20th utilize we want there and a local three miles from town; and on Friendley the 20th utilize way want they and a local three miles from town; and on Friendley the 20th utilize way want they are also the settlers.
